“Making It Work”

...through early intervention and treatment of the whole person,
not just the wound

Services Overview

Understanding the underlying issue(s) affecting one’s ability to heal is as important as treating the wound itself. That’s why early intervention and a comprehensive, multidisciplinary approach to healing are the hallmarks of the St. Luke’s Wound Management Centers.

Our team consists of board-certified general surgeons; trauma surgeons; plastic and vascular surgeons; infectious disease physicians; podiatrists and enterostomal therapists as well as an experienced nursing staff and certified wound specialists.

We coordinate total patient care by maintaining communication with referring physicians and facilitating clinical and non-clinical ancillary services. We work in concert with other areas of medicine to “Make It Work” for our patients and physicians. This “one-stop-shop” approach to healing ensures:

- Patients receive state-of-the-art diagnostics and treatment
- Faster recovery times, less pain and fewer long-term debilitating conditions
- Reduced burden and costs for patients
- Effective continuity of care and coordination of ancillary services
- Comfort and ease by delivering care in any setting
- Convenience for physicians

Providing wound management in a physician office can be frustrating and stressful. That’s why our patients and their physicians depend on the team at St. Luke’s Wound Management Centers to “Make It Work.”
